Contec: clean solutions, individually designed.

Contec GmbH, a classic German technology company, meets highest quality standards. Filtration products are part of the core competence of this mid-sized enterprise located in Bad Honnef. Product policy is geared to four business segments.

In addition to oil mist separator products, the company's business portfolio includes air and gas filtration, liquid filtration and level measurement. Since Contec is leading in the area of oil mist separators for industrial use, it is no surprise that, built in 1987, the first-ever fan-assisted oil mist separator came from the house of Contec. The underlying concept and the applied filter technology were adopted as standard all over the world, giving the decisive impetus to an entire branch of industry. Contec manufactures its oil mist separators as well as air and gas filters entirely in-house.

Known under the COMS brand name, Contec oil mist separators are used for the most part in lubrication oil tanks for turbines, compressors, turbo engines and large engines. Replacing ordinary filters or demisters, COMS high-performance filters ensure constant negative pressure in the lube oil system; hence, guaranteed clean exhaust air. Whether operating under harshest conditions on offshore and in permafrost regions, or in continuous operation for potable water supply – Contec products invariably exceed requirements in terms of emission limits, quality and durability. As for product development, filtration specialist Contec can draw on close to 50 years of experience in the industry. Customised design, flexibility in construction, efficiency in action – such is the developmental approach of Contec engineers.

Contec customers include small to mid-sized businesses as well as international conglomerates and stock corporations. Contec products are applied in a wide range of industries and spheres of life: in the oil & gas and energy industry, in the petrochemical industry, in chemical companies, in the food industry, in ship building, water purification and process engineering, in the automotive sector and in the commercial vehicle industry.

Working on international projects on a daily basis, Contec is relying on experienced and solution-focused staff members. Short lines of communication and a strong commitment to quality are among the core values of the company.
